Dear Dr. Kronhaus,

I am writing to thank you for the excellent care my father, Dan [REDACTED] has received from Doctors Making House Calls. We moved my father to Morningside Assisted Living in Gastonia in April. Since that time, his health has declined rapidly and I cannot imagine what we would have done if he had not been able to receive treatment at Morningside.

During the last six months, Robin Jewett has been his primary care provider. From the beginning, Robin kept me and the staff at Morningside informed about my Dad's condition and his treatment. During one episode of congestive heart failure, she even gave me her personal cell phone number and told me to call her anytime—nights or week-ends. She attends church in McAdenville and said if needed, she would be glad to come and check on Daddy on Sunday.

Daddy has been admitted twice to Gaston Memorial Hospital and Robin is using every possible resource to keep him from additional hospital stays. I am convinced that he receives better treatment at Morningside and from Robin than he would from the hospital. Although he is 93, she believes that he can have quality of life and does everything possible to make it happen. Robin is an extraordinary care giver and has made this difficult time easier for my Dad and our family.

Thank you for the service you provide. I have thanked Robin but wanted you to know how special we think she is!

Sincerely,

William Y. D.
