Sir,

Under the care of Dr. Kumar Nanjagowder I have utilized the services of Doctors Making Housecalls for the past three years. Two valued features of these services are herein cited for your information.

Firstly, at age 85, I eliminate the unsavory experience of travel to a physician's office, waiting well past the scheduled appointment time for a 15 minute consultation with a harried professional, frequently not an M.D., who may be distracted by the ailments of previous patients. In contrast, Dr. Nanjagowder comes to my home prepared to spend up to an hour in conversation, leading to more accurate diagnoses and suggestions.

Secondly, I value Dr. Nanjagowder's compassionate and common sense approach to the problems of aging. His philosophy and recommendations well fit my needs.

Yours sincerely,

Peter
