

Allen,

I want to thank you and Dr. Taavoni for your business model, providing at-home care to others. Neil's mother received direct care from Dr. Taavoni at the Heritage and then through another of your physicians sometime later when we brought her into a large home we rented in Cameron Village area. Mary relocated in 2012 to Florida and has since "passed on". I was so impressed both as a daughter-in-law and nurse that I currently have Doctors Making Housecalls caring for my mother, Josephine in Fuquay-Varina. (Drs Heffner and Goodnough have been in her home as well as PAs Kirsten Bolender and Meagan Grady.) Mother being able to receive care in her home has made these final years much easier on her (and me). X-rays being taken in her home after a fall has, simply put, been INCREDIBLE. As a former director of a large emergency department at Baptist Hospital in Nashville, TN, the trauma program manager at Wake Med and a flight nurse at a large trauma center in Atlanta, I know that the ER is a challenging environment for an elderly person with suspected UTI, general geriatric maladies or after a fall, especially when dementia is involved. Mother is currently receiving the combined care of your practice and Transitions hospice. I am forever singing the praises of your business to others. If I can be of help in spreading the word, I'm happy to help.

Neil and I see ourselves back as full time residents at Bloomsbury in 5-7 years. Perhaps in the future you and Dr Taavoni will choose to experience the urban lifestyle, even if only on weekends! I hope so. The future holds great promise and surprises for us all. I wish you both good health, happiness and peace.

Best regards,
Jean
